Parts of a Flower & Definitions

spring flowers

Daffodil

Bulb

Roots

- Petal: attracts insects, birds, and animals
- Sepals: protects the flower during bud stage
- Anther: male reproductive part that contains the pollen
- Filament: male reproductive part that supports the anther
- Stamen: male reproductive part, the anther and filament together
- Stigma: female reproductive part that is a sticky surface which catches and holds the pollen Style: female reproductive part that supports the stigma
- Ovary: female reproductive part at the base of the style which contains the Ovules
- Ovules: female sex cells which develop into fruit Pistil: female reproductive part that contains the stigma, style, and ovary

spring flowers

Daffodil

Petal

Corona

Stigma

Ovules

Anther

Filament

Pistil

Stem

Bulb

Roots